THE ROLE OF THE PARENTS AND THE TEACHER ON SCHOOL SUCCESS

School success is the balance between a student's real capacity and his/her success in the school. It is a well-known fact that the pupils whose parents set a convenient condition for their children to study peacefully and motivate them continually have high academic success.

In personel and social developoment regarding parents as a model and teachers "and friends" features are very important. Before the school period, setting a good relationship with the children, working in cooperation with them, paying attention to culture and one's own culture, communication skills, solving problems, developing creativity are among the significant aspect that are to be adapted. During the school period these aspect play an important role in the success of a student. Preparing a special-seperate room for the child, making the child study, properly, being in cooperation with the school are the things that the parents should do. On the other hand, in schools, an efficient learning. Teaching atmosphere should be provided. Also, students developments should be observed. The personel differences ought to be taken into consideration providing an efficient participation in the classrooms.
